FURY AS DEVELOPERS DEMOLISH HISTORIC SKELMERSDALE HALL

Company could face legal action after the listed building flattened

Report by Henry James

DEVELOPERS of the Old Toby Inn in Skelmersdale, which was hit by a suspected arson earlier this year, now face legal action after they 'unlawfully' demolished the Grade II listed building.

Residents were shocked to see workmen flatten the historic former Skelmersdale Hall building on Saturday, May 7. The building on Ashurst Road, which dates back to 1712, was last used as the Old Toby pub.

It had been severely damaged in the fire on the evening of Friday, March 4 with arsonists believed to be behind the blaze.

Plans to build 60 apartments for extra-care living accommodation at the location by Cheshire-based applicant SEP Construction Services Ltd were withdrawn just weeks after the fire.

West Lancashire Borough Council said they are, "deeply disappointed" as they had been in discussions with the developer, following the fire at the site, with a view to restoring the building and bringing it back into use.

The site after the historic Grade II listed building was demolished, and inset, as it was after the recent fire.

This was to be assessed through a listed building application, prior to any works being undertaken.

A council spokesperson said: "The council had clearly stated that demolition of the building was not considered acceptable and had outlined its expectations that any work to the listed building required Listed Building Consent."

"Whilst a Demolition Order was received a short time before the demolition took place, this does not remove the requirement to apply for Listed Building Consent.

"The demolition was unauthorised and therefore, a breach of planning law has taken place. Legal advice is currently being obtained to ensure that those responsible are held to account."

Grimster Planning Ltd, who have been acting as the agents for SEP Construction Services Ltd, were contacted for comment.

MP's outrage at 'act of vandalism'

WEST Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said it was "outrageous" that the listed building could be "demolished under the noses of the council, seemingly without due process having been followed."

She added: "Since it burned down, many of my constituents have contacted me concerned about the conservation of this site in recognition of its listed historic status."

"People are worried that developers think the council planning department is weak at enforcing rules and in this case developers are taking full advantage of this and are walking all over them."

"When I asked earlier this year what was going to happen to the Toby, I was told that the planning applications had been withdrawn so that the developers could consider how the building could be rebuilt, which would have retained some features relating to the 17 and 19th Century."

"Unbelievably, I am now told that the owners submitted a demolition order to the council last Thursday and 36 hours later demolished the building and the council had taken no action to stop it."

"To carry out the demolition on this listed building they need permission from Heritage England, and failure to do so is a criminal act."

"I will be urgently asking Heritage England whether the owners gained this consent, and if not, I will be calling for them to feel the full weight of the law."

"I will press for the maximum punishment for this act of vandalism but I'm sure the developers will hardly flinch at paying a fine out of their profits. The criminal sanction for these actions should be greatly increased."

"We cannot allow companies to treat West Lancashire like their own playground, where they do what they want and face no consequences."

MP Rosie Cooper

More than 600 people fleeing war in Ukraine find homes in county

Report by Henry James

A TOTAL of 623 people fleeing the war in Ukraine have found homes in Lancashire.

The UK Government's Homes for Ukraine Scheme, which was launched in March, encourages members of the public to offer rooms in their houses to families and individuals from Ukraine.

Lancashire has welcomed the Ukrainian people with open arms, with 4,212 people now registered to be sponsors, though not all will be successful.

Lancashire County Council has been working with other councils, the NHS and various other organisations to support people fleeing war in Ukraine.

The Homes for Ukraine Scheme scheme is being led by the Home Office, with Lancashire Refugee Integration Team and Lancashire Resilience Forum working together to coordinate the county-wide response.

Rebecca Joy Novell, refugee resettlement and asylum dispersal contract manager, Lancashire Refugee Integration Team, said: "Staff and volunteers are working around the clock to support the families and individuals fleeing Ukraine."

"While the Homes for Ukraine scheme is being led by the Home Office, the county council and its partners have a vital role to play."

"It is a huge undertaking, but everyone is pulling together to make sure our new arrivals settle into their new lives in Lancashire."

"We're also taking numerous steps to support our sponsors, who have shown incredible generosity by opening up their homes to help those in desperate need."

One of the roles of the district authorities is to conduct property checks and report this back to the county council, which is also undertaking enhanced DBS checks for every person over 16 in the sponsor household. This has no bearing on the visa process for the scheme.

The Lancashire Refugee Integration Team is also in regular contact Lancashire Police and Pan Lancashire Anti-Slavery Partnerships, to ensure safeguarding is maintained.

Pensioner set to take on Trans-Pennine Trail on his mobility scooter for charity

Frank 'Turbo' Timmings, 78, aims to raise funds for cancer charity and church community hall

Report by Henry James

A PENSIONER from Burscough is to drive his mobility scooter along the 215-mile Trans-Pennine Trail to raise money for two good causes.

Frank 'Turbo' Timmings will be carrying out the fundraiser on July 11-17 this year, and aims to raise £1,000 for Cancer Research UK and a £1,000 for the refurbishment of Burscough Methodist Church Community Hall.

The 78-year-old decided to organise the event in memory of his wife Beryl.

Frank is hoping to do 30-40 miles a day. He will be stopping off at guest houses along the way. He will start at Hornsea, and travel through York, Manchester and finish off in Southport.

He said: "A few years ago I lost my wife, my best friend Beryl and to cut a long story short I ended up in a very dark place."

"However, with the help and love of my family and very special friends I have pulled myself together and have now decided that I want to do something to make Beryl, my family and friends proud of me."

"So here I am in my 78th year, not many years left in the tank now and I thought it's about time I got off my backside and did something worthwhile!"

"So, I am taking on the Trans Pennine Trail - Hornsea to Southport - on my mobility scooter (strangely enough I will still be on my backside).

"This was a massive 215 miles, with the intention of raising money for two causes that were close to Beryl's heart."

"The first is Cancer Research - I know that a lot of people have been affected in a variety of ways by this dreadful disease over many years and the sooner we can find cures or new treatments the better.

"The second is for the redevelopment of Burscough Methodist Church Community Hall. This hall was built over 50 years ago and needs replacing."

"It serves the local community very well, hosting local clubs and societies, youth organisations and even parties for youngsters."

Man raped woman who was unwell after walking her home from party

By our Court Reporter

A MAN who raped a woman in Ormskirk after walking her home after she was taken unwell at a party has been jailed.

Joshua Corless, 23, of Wavertree Avenue, Widnes, was sentenced at Preston Crown Court on Friday (April 29) following the attack.

Corless was arrested after the victim, a 19-year-old woman, reported the offence to police.

The victim had been on a night out with friends in the town in January 2020, with Corless joining the group. During the evening the victim became extremely unwell and needed to go home.

Corless offered to walk with the victim, going to her home address before committing a horrific sex attack.

The victim came forward and reported the incident to police.

Corless was arrested and following consultation with the Crown Prosecution Service, given summons to appear at court for rape.

He pleaded guilty during the trial.

Corless was also sentenced for other offences committed in Cheshire.

He was jailed for 13 years and will be placed on the sex offender's register for life.

Det Sgt Diane Higham, of Lancashire Police, said: "Joshua Corless is a sexual predator who targeted his victim, exploiting her vulnerable nature for his own depraved ends."

"He pursued her, playing on the fact she was unwell to commit a horrendous sex attack."

"I must thank the victim for her bravery in reporting the offences and facing her abuser through the court process.

"I also wish to place on record my thanks to the investigating officer Det Con Kieran Helps, who fully supported the victim throughout."

"This investigation highlights our commitment to preventing and detecting offences of rape and serious sexual assault."

"We want victims to feel confident that they will be treated with compassion and that we will do everything possible to trace those responsible and take action against them."

"I'd like to offer reassurance that any reports of sexual offences, new or old, will be dealt with sensitively, thoroughly and professionally, with the interests of the victims and their families being our priority."

MP urges housing developer to get on with stalled project

No building work carried out for months on construction of homes on site of former football stadium

Report by Henry James

A HOUSING developer is being urged to get on with building homes at a stalled project in Burscough by MP Rosie Cooper.

The West Lancashire MP has urged housing developer Torus to get on with the construction of a new estate on the site of Burscough Football Club's former stadium off Bobby Langton Way.

The work was being carried out by Crossfield Construction on behalf of Torus Housing Association. Earlier this year Crossfield Construction went into liquidation owing £5.9m to creditors.

Torus have cited difficulties with its contracted construction company as the reason for the stalled project.

Rosie Cooper MP said: "It is not good enough to blame contractors, as the company responsible for this development, Torus need to take control and get on with it or get off the pitch!"

"Burscough residents justifiably feel very frustrated with this situation. Burscough FC's former ground Victoria Park was a focal point of the community, and now in its place, they seem to have a permanent building site.

"If the developer can't make progress soon, they need to find a developer that can and move on. My constituents should not have to endure this."

Burscough Parish Councillor, Cllr David Hardisty, said no building work has been undertaken for around five months.

He added: "Burscough Town Council were assured some months ago this was a temporary problem and work would soon commence again. "In the meantime the part finished houses are being left to the elements.

The partly built houses.

A spokesperson from Torus said: "Torus is committed to delivering the 52-unit scheme and bring quality, affordable homes to Burscough as quickly as possible and is frustrated by the delays.

"Pressures have been increasing for building contractors across the sector for some time due to rising inflation, lack of availability of materials and shortage of labour and this has been evident on this scheme with the appointed contractors.

"This has caused the unforeseen and unexpected delays to progress on site."

Crossfield Construction has been contacted for comment.

No change at West Lancashire Borough Council as authority remains in no overall control

Labour remain the largest single party after local elections

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancashire Borough Council remains in no overall control after last Thursday's local elections.

Labour finished the elections one seat fewer compared to previously following the switch of one of their councillors to Independent in March, so Labour have dropped to 25 out of the 54 seats and the council remains 'hung.'

The Conservatives now have 20 seats, the Our West Lancashire party retains seven seats and there are two Independent councillors.

Labour took Aughton Park from the Conservatives for the first time which Rob Molloy won by 19 votes, and the Conservatives took North Meols from Labour.

The vacant seat at Wrightington before the election has gone to the Conservatives. Another vacant seat at Burscough East which was won by Labour.

Ron Cooper was the Independent councillor for the Tanhouse ward before the election. He had been a Labour councillor but because of comments he made about Keir Starmer, he had the Labour whip withdrawn. He decided not to stand at the election. The seat once again elected a Labour councillor.

Ian Davis retained the Derby ward seat for the Our West Lancashire party while Labour's Gareth Dowling kept his Knowsley ward seat.

Ian Moran has stepped down as a councillor, so the Labour group was due to be electing a new leader of the West Lancashire Labour group on Monday. The overall leader of the council will be decided at the next meeting of all councillors.

The overall turnout was 34%.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the deputy leader of the West Lancashire Labour group, said: "We are delighted to return three ward councillors and elect eight new councillors.

"We narrowly missed out on a number of other seats which would have changed the balance of the council moving us out of no overall control.

"We hope to continue to lead the council and deliver Labour priorities. The year ahead will be an important year for us as we prepare for the all out elections."

Cllr David Westley, Conservative Group Leader, said: "I was pleased with the overall result given the national picture as the Conservatives remain on 20 seats. It was very disappointing to lose a seat in Aughton Park Ward but this was balanced out by an excellent gain from Labour in North Meols (Banks) Ward.

"The outcome was unchanged for last year with no one party having an overall majority, WLBC remains a hung council.

"I would like to assure the residents of West Lancs

The election count at Burscough Fitness and Racquets Centre that the Conservatives will continue to work with the other political groups to ensure the smooth running of the Borough Council."

Adrian Owens, the chairman of the Our West Lancashire party commented: "All councillors will continue to have some influence in the forthcoming year and we see that as an important positive to come out of these results.

"OWL will continue to make the case for more inclusive decision making that involves the skills and talents that councillors from all quarters bring from their varied professional and personal lives."

County council agrees £5m local 'Levelling Up' fund to boost economic growth

LANCASHIRE County Council has unveiled a £5million fund to drive forward economic growth by accelerating delivery of projects.

The Lancashire Levelling Up Investment Fund will speed up the development of a number of existing and emerging major schemes which support the council's priorities, including boosting jobs and skills, improving transport, and protecting the environment.

A report to the county council's cabinet, which was agreed last week to establish the new fund, outlines that the aim is to build on the success of last year's £12.8m Lancashire Economic Recovery and Growth Fund which itself is helping to re-establish the strong upward trajectory of the county's economy that existed before the Covid-19 pandemic.

County Councillor Aidy Riggott, cabinet member for economic development and growth, said: "The county council has an important role to play in securing investment into Lancashire, and we're already working with partners on a number of ambitious projects which complement the aims of the government's Levelling Up agenda.

"The Lancashire Levelling Up Investment Fund will help to get these county council led schemes.

"It will potentially also be used to provide match-funding for projects which are seeking funding from the government's scheme but need some further investment to enhance their ability to deliver local benefits."

The report sets out that the county council currently supports a multi-billion-pound pipeline of major development across Lancashire, including £10bn transport and digital infrastructure, £3.5bn local town and city regeneration plans, four enterprise zones and the £2bn of Strategic Development projects and activities.

It also outlines a number of further examples for how the fund could be used to bring forward this investment including carrying out feasibility studies to develop business cases, and direct intervention and investment to support the delivery of key sites.

George Atkins with the cookies and cakes he baked for his fundraiser

George comes up with eggs-ellent way to help charity!

AN Aughton youngster decided to use the last of his Easter egg chocolate to bake cookies and cakes to sell at a Bank Holiday bake sale to raise money for the North West Air Ambulance Charity.

George Atkins, eight, managed to collect £83.49 for the charity from a stand set-up on his driveway!

His mum, Pam Atkins, said: "I work for The North West Air Ambulance Charity and have told George all about the work that we do and that is why he wanted to raise money for us."

"The charity receives no government or NHS funding and we need to raise £9.5m a year to keep the helicopters flying."

INVESTORS are being invited to an event in Skelmersdale with expert advice on how to reduce their tax bills.

It's being organised by Acumen, a Burscough based Independent Financial Adviser (IFA), and features speakers from leading venture capitalists Octopus Investments and Praetura Ventures.

Daniel Frampton PFPS, from Acumen Financial Partnership said: "We're thrilled to not only be able to hold an in person event again but also to call on speakers with such valuable insight and knowledge about potential investment opportunities for our existing and prospective clients."

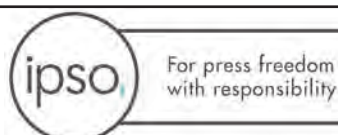

"It's aimed at people who may already have built a considerable pension pot and are worried about being charged a lifetime allowance tax or even worried about the impact of inheritance tax."

"But it will also be of interest to owners of private businesses who may be thinking about selling."

The event takes place on Wednesday, May 11 at Lancashire Manor Hotel in Skelmersdale.

Youths hurled brick through window of ice cream van in park

Report by Henry James

YOUTHS threw a brick through the rear windscreen of an ice cream van which was parked up at the entrance to Coronation Park in Ormskirk.

The ice cream van owner was not injured but was left shaken by the incident.

Police had been called to deal with a large gang of youths who had been causing a “nuisance” at the McDonald’s restaurant at Two Saints Retail Park at around 5pm on Saturday, May 7.

The group then split up, and a smaller group made their way to Coronation Park where two of the youths threw a brick through the ice cream van window.

The youths ran in the direction of the cemetery following the incident.

One was wearing a blue jumper and one a light jumper, and both had dark hair.

A spokesperson for Ormskirk and Rural West Lancs Police commented on Facebook: “The victim has not only lost out on earnings, but has been left shaken by the incident.

“We are asking if anyone witnessed the incident or anyone who knows those involved to speak to us.

The ice cream van and, inset, the brick which was thrown.

“Investigations continue and by working as a community, we can bring justice to those involved.”

Residents forced to bring own water to tend flowers at graves

By Henry James

RESIDENTS visiting the resting place of relatives at Ormskirk Parish Church have been forced to bring their own water to tend to flowers at the graves - after a standpipe at the site stopped working.

It has been feared the elderly and disabled are having to carry their own water to the Church Street location. A spokesman for the Parish Church has apologised for the problem and added they are working on possible solutions.

Graham Gilbert, of Grunshaw Lane, Ormskirk has been visiting relatives' graves at the graveyard for 14 years.

He said: "The first time I realised the standpipe wasn't working I had to go to Morrisons to buy bottled water for flowers at the grave of my relatives. However, I am more concerned for other people, particularly for the elderly and disabled and anyone without a car who may have to carry water by foot. I think it is a step too far to ask the elderly and disabled to take their own water to the churchyard. My heart goes out to them."

"The standpipe at the graveyard at Ormskirk Parish Church has been working for generations, although it has not been working this year. The tap on the standpipe also appears to be broken. I have told the church wardens aware of the problem and cannot identify the source of the water. Does anyone know the source of the water to the standpipe? This has inconvenienced people who may be struggling with grief."

"The church should have a collection to reconnect the water to the standpipe, and get the tap fixed. I have spoken to other people, and they are concerned about this. Hopefully, a solution will be able to be found."

A spokesperson for the parish church responded: "We are aware that the tap which many used to help tend their loved ones graves has broken."

"We have already started investigating the source and possible solutions. However because the tap may have been in place since the 1940s we believe that this may be a complicated matter to resolve and one of the first things we are looking at is where the water came. So, at the moment, we would ask everyone to help us out by bringing their own water supply."

"We appreciate that this is not ideal and are sorry for any difficulties this presents."

"We fully understand how important keeping a tidy graveyard to honour all those who love and have lost. We hope that everyone will be patient and help each other as together we work out how best to supply water to the graveyard in a sustainable way for the future."

DJ Adele raises funds for hospitals after Mastermind success

Report by Tom Martin

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk hospitals have received an unexpected windfall after Radio 1 DJ Adele Roberts appeared on Mastermind.

The radio presenter, who hails from Southport, was a contestant on the BBC quiz show - which went out on Saturday, April 30 - alongside three other celebrities who competed against one another in rounds of general and specialised trivia.

Adele, who won the show after picking a specialist subject of 'The Planets of the Solar System', chose to support Southport and Ormskirk hospitals.

Posting on Instagram before the show was aired, Adele said: "Thank you from the bottom of my heart to the wonderful staff of Southport & Ormskirk hospital. Thank you for the excellent care you gave to my mum when she needed you most and for looking after my sister and her baby."

"Please watch if you're from Southport, I tried my best for you all. I hope I did you proud. Especially everyone from High Park. I love you."

The Champion has previously reported how Adele is battling bowel cancer and has regularly used her platform to urge anyone with early signs of the condition to get checked out.

Adele added: "We recorded this episode of Mastermind while I was waiting to hear if I had cancer. As you can imagine, my head was all over the place but thanks to the show and the incredible team in Belfast who make it

"Seeing the legend Clive Myrie's warm and kind smile as I sat down in the iconic black chair was a beautiful moment. It was almost like he knew what was happening to me. I'll treasure that forever."

All the contestant's appearance fees are given to their respective charity and the overall winner gets a trophy.

Train 'stars' to be given award by Merseyrail

MERSEYRAIL is on the hunt for its 'customer star' and needs passengers to nominate their favourite member of railway staff.

As part of its annual Merseyrail Achievement Awards, which celebrate their staff across the organisation, the rail operator is asking its customers to nominate a colleague they feel represents the "best of what Merseyrail has to offer" to win the Customer Star Award.

They want to hear from commuters if a particular member of staff has offered great customer service, impressed them by the way they have done their job, or handled a difficult situation well or helped them out in some way.

All nominations are welcome.

Nominations can be made by filling out this form: www.merseyrail.org/about-merseyrail/merseyrail-customer-star-award.aspx and the closing date for nominations is Thursday, June 30.

The winner will be announced later this year.

Businesses to benefit from virtual reality

Report by Henry James

BUSINESSES across West Lancashire will be able to benefit from a range of virtual reality equipment designed to help local companies prepare for working in a future low carbon economy.

Two state-of-the-art low carbon virtual reality (VR) hubs are on site at Nelson and Colne College and Accrington and Rossendale College, while an additional mobile VR unit will be available to travel to local businesses, schools and events across West Lancashire.

The VR hubs have been purchased as part of an £8.4m project, delivered by The Lancashire Colleges, to develop the skills of the region's current and future workforce and help businesses to lead the way in low carbon technology.

Funded by the Department for Education, the Strategic Development Fund (SDF) Pilot aims to increase joint working between colleges and employers to prepare Lancashire's workforce for the move to a low carbon economy.

Each hub will support local manufacturers to benefit from immersive surroundings which allow employees to understand the location and setting that they are working with, in turn helping manufacturers to develop a process without having to travel long distances or enter high risk environments.

Virtual reality can offer many benefits to businesses

In addition to being available to local businesses, students at colleges across Lancashire and local schools will also be able to benefit from the technology for curriculum delivery, virtual field trips and special events.

Paul Barker, head of sales and recruitment for apprenticeships and training at Nelson and Colne College Group said: "The VR suites allow local companies to lead the way in finding solutions to manufacturing challenges, while it means students and workers in Lancashire can learn using the best technology on the market, creating new opportunities to help local employees to become the best they can be without having to leave the county."

Skem suffer cup semi-final defeat

Macron Cup loss brings an end to memorable season

Charnock Richard 2
Skelmersdale United 1

SKELMERSDALE United were knocked out of the Macron Cup at the semi-final stage after a narrow defeat against Charnock Richard at Chorley FC's Victory Park stadium, writes Kevin Panther.

The defeat brings an end to Skem's epic 2021-22 season after they earned promotion after finishing second in the league and winning the play-offs.

Success in the Macron Cup would have been a bonus but Skelmersdale manager Paul McNally was downbeat at the final whistle.

He said: "The season should have ended last week, when everyone was on a high, players and supporters alike. It's a little flat after today, knowing that there is no game next week where we can put things right."

It had all started off so well for McNally's men as Mickey Howard swept home after a scramble in the box just 40 seconds into the game for his 33rd goal of the season.

It could have been more moments later when great work from James Salkeld found Emini Adegbenro in the crowded goalmouth but his shot was cleared off the goal line as United threatened to run riot.

Skem were getting into threatening positions in the box but couldn't find a way through the stubborn Charnock defence.

It took until the 30th minute for Ben Barnes the Skem goalkeeper to see any real action as he tipped away a smartly taken shot from Brad Carsley and when Carsley headed over a few minutes later you could sense the tide was turning against Skem.

The second half was only a few minutes old when Barnes came to the rescue clearing off the line from Nathan Nickeas as Charnock piled on the pressure.

They got their just rewards on 66 minutes when Nickeas sent an unstoppable shot past the stranded Ben Barnes to draw level.

Skem responded with a Sam Sheen effort that was tipped over by home goalkeeper Connor Eastham, the resulting corner saw an acrobatic shot from Tom Croughan fly just over the crossbar.

Charnock went in front on 81 minutes, after a sweeping counter attack when Mikey Howard's shot was blocked and Charnock number four Ashley Young set Nathan Nickeas free to score.

United were not done. As the referee announced four minutes of injury time Kenny Strickland rattled the bar, Mikey Howard's header went agonisingly wide and Mike Simpson had a shot blocked.

But it was a game too far for United after last week's heroics they wilted in the May heat, whilst Charnock who had not played for ten days and grew into the game and finished the stronger.

United supporters will look back on a season of success for Paul McNally and his team and there will no doubt be more to celebrate at the club's end of season awards.

Linnets bosses 'delighted' at interest in manager vacancy

BURSCOUGH FC officials say they have had a lot of applications for the role of first team manager after the job was advertised two weeks ago following the unexpected resignation of Paul Bowes.

Director of football Dave Sutton said he and his colleagues were working through a "long list of applications and quality CVs" before making a final decision on who to appoint.

He added: "All connected with the club going forward are delighted with the response. Pre season will see some exciting football!"

Five wickets for Shehzad but Ormskirk fall to heavy defeat

ORMSKIRK were dismissed for 116 by Leigh on Saturday to sustain a heavy 112 run defeat.

Leigh had scored 237-8 declared in 55 overs with Matthew McKiernan top scoring with 91 not out. Openers Luis (43) Reece and Sam Dorsey (45) had got the Leigh innings off to a solid start. Zahir Shehzad was the leading wicket taker for Ormskirk with 5-74.

George Lavelle top scored for Ormskirk with 55 in their reply but no other batter could make a substantial contribution as they were all out in 40.5 overs. Elsewhere in the Liverpool

Competition Premier Division Birkenhead Park beat Northern by six wickets, Wigan beat Southport & Birkdale by 13 runs, Newton-le-Willows beat Formby by six wickets, Orrell RT drew with New Brighton and Wallasey beat Rainhill by 67 runs.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.
